We undertake this in the following ways:

- Detailed assessment analysis is undertaken regularly

These are analysed by a key member of staff in order to look for trends or patterns in order to ensure all children have the same opportunities of feeling safe, welcome and happy within school;
- PSHE, RE, RSE and SMSC areas of the curriculum regularly address ideas of equality through tolerance, friendship and sharing an understanding of a range of religions or cultures;
- A wide ranging enrichment programme of the curriculum, including visits and clubs are considered for all children, if it is safe to do so and making reasonable adjustments where necessary.

- Assemblies within the school, events and pupils sharing things within class give opportunities for pupils to appreciate their own culture and celebrate the diversity of other cultures.

c) Engagement and fostering good relations

Within our school values, engagement with all stakeholders is seen as fundamental and we pride ourselves on our engagement with the local community, especially those affected by the decisions we make as a school.

- We engage with a wide range of groups and individuals to ensure that the group of staff and governors that approve the policy represent the diverse community in which we live;
- Our equality objectives are devised based on qualitative and quantitative data that we have collected from assessments but also staff, pupil and parents questionnaire responses;
- Local community links and events are frequently placed throughout the school's calendar and are open to all, in order to foster good relationships and engage with all members of the community.

Section 4: Equality Objectives

We formulate and publish equality objectives using the views of parents, pupils, staff and governing body as well as sound qualitative and quantitative evidence from within school. Our equality objectives are written for four academic years, however we will constantly review them and we will report annually on our progress towards achieving them.

We address the experience, understanding and needs of the victim, perpetrator, bystanders and the wider school community through our actions and responses to the above.

Initial contact is usually made through the child's class teacher, and in the vast majority of cases, concerns or anxieties are usually resolved at this stage. However, if this fails and a parent wishes to make a formal complaint, the school has published guidelines for parents detailing the necessary stages in the formal complaints procedure.
